Dear Harold,

Enclosed is a review of Honor. A boring and trivial work. Hardly an expose of The F.B.I. as J.R. thought.

Turner's Power On The Right is being distributed by Nash after Simon and Schuster refused on the (alleged) advice of legal.

Bishop's book received a loud-silence.

Sprague's articles fall below the level at which criticism or even dialogue is possible as per The Jim Hicks Canard among countless examples.

This quotation is more interesting.

Enclose 42 of Canal A.

Hope you can work out something on P.M.

Best Wishes,

E
